Project Description: Improvements to Rogers Park in the Village of Sparta came about because of the lack of recreational facilities and wet soils caused by seasonal flooding of Nash Creek at the existing park.

Moore & Bruggink provided design engineering and construction management for this project. The project consisted of creating a shelf along Nash Creek to increase small flooding capacities. The project included a band shell with patio area, playground area with sitting wall, a pavilion with picnic area and a bike path through these facilities as well as along the creek.
